

From the Chaplaincy

Consideration of Eternal Realities

By Fr. Francis Ongkingco

The month of November invites us to deepen our consideration of our own life and faith journey. This month makes us weigh our life before the eternal realities of death, judgement, heaven and hell. It is also a time when we devotedly pray for our dearly departed and visit them in family cemeteries or columbarium, offering indulgences and suffrages for their eternal repose.

We are also again reminded of the amazing reality of the Communion of Saints. In other words, with the help of God and the saints who are already with God in Heaven and purgatory, you and I are also all called to be saints!

In Woodrose, these realities are more engraved as we each prepare for a physical journey of love with Jesus with our coming Eucharistic Procession on the 23rd of November. This sacred floral celebration makes the eternal present for us, as Jesus blesses us and our families with His transforming Eucharistic presence to help us to become saints.

May our Lady of the Rose, accompany us and receive our petal offerings so that one day in Heaven, on our behalf, She will intercede for our entrance into eternal bliss.